THE FINE PRINT

- Attend classes at any of our 7 partner colleges or 30+ affiliate institutions.
- Be a good student and commit to staying in the program for the duration of the semester.
 - How long do I have to work to be covered in the program?
 - You must work the duration of your signed Student Agreement which covers one academic year, to receive full program benefits. Tuition and fees are paid at the conclusion of each academic term. Educational benefits are paid for students who complete the term, successfully complete their courses and maintain employment through the end of the semester. Students who do not meet program requirements can be removed from the program after the first term.
 - The CRCP pays a maximum educational benefit of up to $5,250 per year for student tuition and fees and $50 per course toward textbooks. CRCP students take part-time course loads, ideally 2-3 courses per semester. Payment is made directly to the college at the completion of the semester for all classes completed satisfactorily. As a result, students whose expenses are within the program limits would not need to pay for classes in advance and would only incur book expenses should books exceed $50 per class or the semester maximum benefit.
